Spotlight

The International Federation for Theatre Research Conference comes to the United States once every twenty years. The 2005 conference, held on June 26-July 2 was sponsored by the Department of Theatre at the University of Maryland at College Park, near Washington, D.C. graciously hosted by Dr. Franklin J. Hildy, IFTR Committee Chair and Department of Theatre Chair. The subject of this year's conference focused on the Citizen Artist: Theatre, Culture and Community.

Another Language Performing Arts Company was greatly honored to have a paper accepted into this prestigious international event and on Monday June 27 in the Laboratory Theatre at the beautiful and inspiring Clarice Smith Performing Arts Center we presented our InterPlay work in a panel titled Citizen Artists of the GRID to this international community of theatre researchers.

Jimmy Miklavcic started off our presentation with the inspiration and description of the technological requirements that it took to create InterPlay: Hallucinations, I gave the second presentation which focused on The Role of the Artist/Performer within the InterPlay Process; Reflections of Citizenship and covered the InterPlay Participation History and examined a case study of our most recent performance InterPlay: Loose Minds in a Box. Nadja Masura wrapped up the presentation with her research on Multi-site Community, Performance Collaboration and Place.

This was a once in a lifetime experience and we truly are inspired by the theatre research being conducted by so many dedicated artists around the globe. A special thanks goes out to the Maryland staff, the wonderful people we met, old friends we were able to see, and Nadja Masura for her gracious hospitality during our stay.

Another Language Performing Arts Company performed InterPlay: Loose Minds in a Box, an unprecedented real-time national collaboration, at the Los Angeles Convention Center for the world renown ACM SIGGRAPH 2005 computer graphics conference on August 3 & 4, 2005. Another Language was invited to be a part of the Access Grid's introduction into the Emerging Technologies program at SIGGRAPH as a result of its pioneering performances.

Another Language had the unique opportunity to be among many of today's foremost authorities in telematic, collaborative, multimedia and computer arts, such as Roy Ascott, Margaret Dolinsky and Don Forresta. We performed on Wednesday, August 3 at 9:30 A.M. and Thursday, August 4 at 1:00 P.M. Each performance was streamed over Internet 2 for Windows Media Player.

Coming together again to perform InterPlay: Loose Minds in a Box from their respective states were Scott Deal (Alaska), Charles Nichols (Montana), Tina Shah, Helen Kostis, (Illinois), T.J. Rogers, Joe Hayes, Carol Cunningham (Indiana), Nadja Masura and Peter Rogers (Maryland). Performing locally in the Los Angeles Convention Center were Beth Miklavcic, Jimmy Miklavcic (Utah), Miho Aoki (Alaska) and Dioselin Gonzalez (Indiana).

Beth enhanced the InterPlay experience with her creative arrangement of the video streams across thirty-six feet of projection screen surface. Jimmy selected the incoming video streams and mixed them into a live, real-time, surrealist cinematic experience. Scott on percussion and Charles on electronic violin combined their musical virtuosity over distances of more than two thousand miles to fill the space in L.A. with richly exotic sounds. Nadja, Peter, Tina, Helen, and Joe performed within their local environments, sending their manifestations through video to L.A. to fortify the artistic concept. Miho and Dioselin contributed their computer graphics into the collaborative mix from within the performance space. TJ and Joe's motion capture data interacted with the music from Charles. The performance was recorded and is now available at <http://www.anotherlanguage.org/interplay>.

InterPlay: Loose Minds in a Box was an exceptional demonstration of how the Access Grid technology can be used to fulfill artistic ideas. We stepped up to the challenge and met with great success, showcasing this rare quality of art coming out the state of Utah.

Another Language could not have done this without the great work of those at SIGGRAPH 2005. We especially would like to thank Donna Cox, Jeff Carpenter, Jeff Schwab, Jennifer Teig von Hoffman and the additional support staff. We would also like to thank the University of Utah Center for High Performance Computing for sponsoring our presence at the conference.
